CS500 Series Highlights

»» New Convertible Headset CS540:

The lightest DECT headset on the market at 21 grams. The new CS540 convertible wearing style is already a huge hit with The Headset Team customers.

With the CS540 choose between over-the-head, over-the-ear or behind-the-head neckband (neckband sold separately).

»» CS500 Family Conferencing:

Throw away the old Y Adapter for conferencing and monitoring calls.

CS500 family system users can conference with up to 3 additional CS500 headsets or even Savi DECT headsets. Total of 4 headsets in a conference.

If you have the same style of headset your guest can simply dock their headset in your cradle to join a call, if they have a different style of headset they can also join your call using over the air subscription.

»» CS500 Narrowband and wideband support:

Traditional desk phones are limited in their audio bandwidth (300 to 3.6KHz). As a comparison the human voice has a bandwidth of approximately 100 to 5KHz so the very low and high voice frequencies are lost making you sound less natural.

Quotes of the Month

“Big customers do not fall from trees and people buy from people they know and trust.”

“Interaction is the key to understanding”

- Allen Shaffer
The Headset Team-

More modern telephones such as IP desk phones and softphones enable a much wider range of voice frequencies to be transmitted and received.

CS500 series can take advantage of these wideband phone systems which improves voice intelligibility.

» Adaptive power technology:

DECT wireless technology can provide a range of up to 350 ft. in the office environment, but there is a limit to the number of concurrent users and this is called “user density”.

The adaptive power feature detects how far you are from the base unit and turns the DECT radio power down to match your distance. Therefore the closer to the base unit the less radio power is emitted. This has two benefits, you can have more DECT users in the same area (better user density) and the headset uses less battery power thus improving talk and standby time.
